Work Camp – Community Service Projects

Human rights

To ensure corrective services officers act or make decisions in a way that is compatible with human rights, officers must give proper consideration to human rights relevant to the decision including but not limited to:

- recognition and equality before the law, including the right to equal and effective protection against discrimination;
- the right to protection from torture and cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment;
- Cultural rights – generally and for Aboriginal peoples and Torres Strait Island peoples;
- the right to be treated with humanity and respect when deprived of liberty;
- the right to have access, based on the person's abilities, to further vocational education and training that is equally accessible to all.

Limitation of human rights

Human rights can be limited if certain conditions are present:

- the limit must be provided under law;

- the limit must be reasonable;
- any imposition on the human rights must be demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society based on human dignity, equality and freedom.

A person's human rights should only be limited to the extent that is reasonably and demonstrably justified.

Freedom from forced or compulsory labour does not include work or service normally required of a person under detention because of a lawful court order (HRA s 18(3)(a)).

Community reintegration should be graduated and supervised in accordance with the risks and needs of an individual prisoner.

Work camps provide prisoners opportunities to participate in Work Program Community Projects, providing reparation to the community while developing new skills which provide:

- reparation to the community
- development of new work skills
- an opportunity to reintegrate into the community and demonstrate expected community behaviours.

Prisoners should be provided with meaningful work projects that develop practical skills to assist their reintegration and are beneficial to the community.

Proposal to Establish a Work Camp

A Shire or Council may apply to the Commissioner for the establishment of a permanent work camp site in their local community, refer Proposal to Establish a Work Camp Site Administrative Form 171. Established Work Camp locations are identified in Appendix CE7 – Corrective Services Facilities including Work Campsites.

Additional Considerations - Transfer for Participation in a Work Order	Some low security facilities accommodate prisoners who have been granted a work order. Refer to Practice Directive Sentence Management: Classification and Placement.
Additional Considerations – Emergency/Disaster Relief Work	Emergency response community service for locations outside of a facility's regional council boundaries should be performed by work program approved prisoners. All requests for emergency/disaster relief work will be considered and determined by the Commissioner, QCS. Approval for the use of restricted equipment (e.g. tractors, chainsaws) must be directly authorised by the Chief Superintendent, General Manager of a corrective services facility.

Project Application

The application must be provided to the Chief Superintendent, General Manager of the corrective services facility in the region in which the proposed work camp site would be located.

Application	All requests for assistance are to be made on Application to Become a Work Program Community Project Administrative Form 162. The requesting organisation must also complete Work Program Community Service Project Workplace Health and Safety Assessment Administrative Form 163. A corrective services officer may provide assistance to complete these forms if required.

Project Assessment

When assessing suitability of potential Work Program community projects the following factors must be considered:

- a sponsor organisation should ideally be “not for profit” or a government agency (Department, Council etc.). Exceptions may be approved where a project does not contribute directly to the organisation's profit.
- QCS must ensure that Community Service Project Sponsors are made aware of their obligations, as a public entity under the Human Rights Act 2019 and as a consequence are obliged to comply with the terms of that Act.
- a rigorous assessment for any potential ethical compromise to QCS
- its appropriateness as an activity for the relevant prisoners
- whether ongoing and adequate on-site supervision is to be provided for prisoners performing community work
- if appropriate, suitability to meet the needs of all prisoners including those with a disability or specific cultural needs, whether the project involves meaningful and non-traditional options for prisoners.

The outcome of each of these considerations must be documented as an integral part of the application for approval of the project.

A sponsor organisation must have current public liability insurance, which also covers the use of equipment and any injury that may be sustained by the prisoner.

Work Program community projects must be assessed and regularly monitored by Work Camp Coordinators to ensure compliance with QCS requirements for workplace health and safety, however; external organisations must be advised that compliance with these requirements does not necessarily discharge the organisation's obligations under relevant workplace health and safety legislation.

Work Program – Work Order Assessment and Approval

The State's 13 work camps are aligned to local corrective services facilities:

- Brisbane Women's Correctional Centre
 - o Warwick (women's)
- Capricornia Correctional Centre
 - o Springsure, Clermont and Blackall
- Palen Creek Correctional Centre
 - o Mitchell, Charleville, Dirranbandi and St George
- Lotus Glen Correctional Centre
 - o Innisfail
- Townsville Correctional Centre
 - o Boulia, Julia Creek, Winton and Bowen (women's).

In accordance with CSA s66 a work order must be granted for a prisoner to be transferred to a work camp and the prisoner must perform community service as directed by the Chief Executive or delegate.

A work order may only be granted to a prisoner who is not restricted from transferring to a work camp. Refer CSA s67 and Schedule 1.

Referral

Prisoners should be identified for assessment of suitability for the Work Program through each corrective services facility's progression process.

Regular communication between the Work Program Coordinator (or equivalent) and Sentence Management Services should occur to identify prisoners that are not restricted from transferring to a work camp and may be suitable for placement on a work order. A prisoner's suitability should be identified as early as possible to allow for specific skill development that would benefit the community and the prisoner.

Suitability Assessment

Assessment of eligible prisoners is to be conducted by the Work Program Coordinator (or equivalent) with input from the Intelligence Officer and Sentence Management Services using Work Program Suitability Assessment / Community Service and Education LOA Assessment Administrative Form 20.

Prisoners should transition to a work camp after first having been placed at a low custody corrective services facility (excluding Townsville Women's Correctional Centre). However where this is not possible due to operational reasons, a prisoner may still be assessed for a work camp if appropriate. The transition should be linked to the prisoner's progression plan.

All requests for prisoners in the Serious Offenders Unit (SOU) cohort to undertake the Work Program are coordinated by SOU. The recommendation of the responsible officer, recorded on the Work Program Suitability Assessment / Community Service and Education LOA Assessment Administrative Form 20, is to be forwarded to SOU via email to [REDACTED] for consideration by the General Manager, Sentence Management Services.

Eligibility Criteria

A prisoner may be eligible for progression to a work camp where:

- the prisoner is classified a low security classification (refer to Classification and Placement Practice Directive)
- the prisoner has not been charged with an offence that has not been dealt with by a court
- there is no unexecuted warrant relating to the prisoner
- a deportation or removal or extradition order has not been made against the prisoner
- an appeal has not been made to a court against the prisoner's conviction or sentence
- the prisoner has not been convicted of a sexual offence.

Suitability Considerations

The following must be considered before deciding to approve a prisoner for a work order:

- all recommendations of the sentencing court
- the risk the prisoner may pose to the community including:
 - the risk of the prisoner escaping or attempting to escape
 - the risk of physical or psychological harm to a member of the community and the degree of risk
 - the prisoner's security classification.

A prisoner should have completed all recommended interventions prior to placement on a work order. Where practical, prisoners who otherwise meet eligibility and suitability criteria should be given priority placement for any outstanding intervention programs in order to facilitate placement on a work order, but not at the detriment of other prisoners.

If an eligible prisoner has a demonstrated pattern of violent offending or escalating severity, justification must be provided if approval for a work order is granted. This must include how the prisoner has mitigated the level of risk to the community to a sufficient level to be placed at a work camp under a reduced level of supervision. Prisoners identified in this category may need to demonstrate suitability through a period of placement at a low custody corrective services facility prior to progressing to a work order. Refer CSA s67(2)(c).

Approval of a Work Order

In addition to the requirements of CSA s67 when granting approval for a work order the Chief Executive or delegate must consider whether the prisoner has undertaken the security classification process and is classified low security classification (refer to Classification and Placement Practice Directive).

The recommendation of the responsible officer and the Chief Executive or delegate's decision must be recorded on the Work Program Suitability Assessment / Community Service and Education LOA Assessment Administrative Form 20.

Refer Instrument of Delegation of Chief Executive Powers – Queensland Corrective Services and Deputy Director-General's Instruction – Conditions for Exercising Sentence Management Delegations.

Issue Work Order

Following a decision by the Chief Executive or delegate to approve a work order the Form 13 – Work Order Approved Form must be issued with any additional conditions the Chief Executive or delegate considers necessary including participation in sporting events and community functions.

Advise Prisoner

The prisoner must be advised of a decision not to grant a work order including reasons for the decision. The date the prisoner was advised is to be entered in a case note in IOMS.

Provide Copy to Prisoner

The conditions stated on the work order and the consequences of non-compliance with the conditions must be explained to the prisoner. The prisoner must sign the work order and the suitability assessment and work order must be attached in IOMS with the originals placed in the Offender File.

The prisoner is to be provided a copy of the work order and advised that they must carry the work order on their person at all times when not under the direct supervision of a corrective services officer. The order must be provided by the prisoner to a corrective services officer or police officer if requested.

A case note must be entered in IOMS to record the date the work order was provided to the prisoner.

Responsible Officer	Work Program Coordinator (or equivalent).
Approval and Review	Chief Executive or delegate.

Amendment or Repeal of a Work Order

A work order may be amended to reflect changes in circumstances of a prisoner or changing requirements of a work camp.

A work order can be repealed at any time by the Chief Executive or delegate.

Amendment or repeal of a work order is to be recorded using Approved Form 14 – Order for Amendment/Cancellation of Work Order. The order must be attached in IOMS and the original placed in the Offender File.

Additional considerations- Warrants	The Chief Executive or delegate may issue a warrant when a prisoner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • escapes from lawful custody; • has been mistakenly discharged before the prisoner was eligible to be discharged; or • remains in the community after any of the following orders, made in relation to the offender, have been suspended or cancelled: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> i) a leave of absence order ii) an interstate leave permit iii) a community work order iv) a conditional release order; or v) a parole release order.
