Research Guide to cemetery records

Queensland State Archives (QSA) is the official repository for Queensland Government records selected for permanent retention because of their continuing value. The archived public records are from state government departments, state courts, local government authorities and statutory authorities. The records are in our facility at Runcorn, Brisbane, and open records are available for viewing in the Reading Room, free-of-charge.

QSA holds various records about cemeteries, cemetery trusts, and burial grounds, as well as records of local authorities and government departments responsible for land reserves. In most cases, the trust records are still held by the trust or the local council.

The main finding aid for records held at QSA is the Queensland State Archives' online catalogue (known as ArchivesSearch).

The following citation abbreviations are used throughout our catalogue:

ITM	QSA Item (describes the item)
PR	Physical Representation (generally the original or microfilm copy)
DR	Digital Representation (for a digital image)
S	Series ID (for series of records)
A	Agency ID (for the creating or responsible agency).

Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander readers are advised that our catalogue contains images, names and voices of people who have died.

Legislation and background

The Cemetery Act 1865, which repealed Section 75 of the Municipal Institutions Act 1864, gave the Governor-in-Council the power to appoint trustees to hold land in trust for the establishment or purpose of a public cemetery. The trustees have the power to enclose any land granted and conveyed for cemetery purposes and are responsible for the upkeep and maintenance of the cemetery. All rules and regulations, accounts, and notification of the closing of a cemetery are to be published in the Queensland Government Gazette.

The Local Authorities Act 1902 gave the Governor-in-Council the power to proclaim the local authorities as trustees, who would assume the management and control of reserves, cemeteries and parks. The date that the local authority assumed trusteeship is in the Queensland Government Gazette, under the headings By-Laws, Local Authorities, Land, Appointment of Trustee, or Cemetery, placed under Control of Local Authority.

Other relevant information may be found in the records of the Lands Department, Works Department, Colonial Secretary's Office, Home Secretary's Office, Co-ordinator General's Office, Survey Office, and the local councils.
