

Internet listing permission

To help the public find a Justice of the Peace or Commissioner for Declarations, the department offers a search facility on its websites. This facility works from a database which contains the names, suburb and phone number of JPs and C.decs throughout the state. In the interests of your privacy, the database does not include street addresses.

However, the Justices of the Peace Branch must have your permission to include your contact details on the website. To create a comprehensive database, we need all JPs to nominate their details for inclusion on this search facility. You can also use this form if you have recently changed your contact details.

You are eligible for inclusion on the internet listing if:

- you are currently registered as a JP(C.dec), C.dec, JP(Qual) or JP(Mag Ct)
- your address and phone number details are up to date
- you are willing to be called on to serve the community at any time, day or night.

The Department of Justice and Attorney-General is collecting your personal information for the purpose of obtaining your agreement to have your name, suburb of residence and telephone number published to the department's internet listing database of JPs. If you give that agreement, these details will be disclosed to the public by way of internet publication through departmental websites as explained above.
