Primary diagnosis

If assessing psychological injuries, please provide DSM5 diagnosis.
If assessing more than 1 injury, please provide details for each.

Primary cause of injury

Are there any pre-existing conditions we should be aware of?

Is the current injury an exacerbation of a pre-existing injury, illness or condition?

Yes No

If yes, what is the original diagnosis and how has the patient's condition changed?

3. Treatment stage

What stage of treatment is the patient currently focusing on?

* A condition is stable and stationary when the condition is not likely to improve further with treatment. This suggest the condition has reached maximal medical improvement and that suitable rehabilitation has been carried out.

Acute care/stabilisation Treatment of injuries
Rehabilitation/reintegration Winding down care
Exacerbation resolved, mainly treating pre-existing condition
Maintenance /monitoring of stable and stationary* injury

4. Progress and prognosis

We recognise it may be difficult to separate the act of violence injury, illness or condition from pre-existing conditions (particularly with treatment and rehabilitation activities).

However, assessment of treatment needs and any permanent impairment must be restricted to the act of violence component of the injury, illness or condition.

What ongoing treatment is required (specify anticipated frequency and duration — e.g. fortnightly appointments for 6 months)?

What is the likely outcome of the current treatment?

Based on your diagnosis has the injury/exacerbation caused by the act of violence ceased? If not, when do you expect it is likely to be resolved?

If the patient has a pre-existing condition: what is the anticipated duration of treatment for the act of violence component, and at what point is the treatment likely to focus primarily on the pre-existing condition?

6. Recommendations

Do you consider an independent medical examination is required for opinion on causation and/or ongoing management?

If yes, please advise if you have specific questions you would like addressed by the examiner.

Please add any additional comments to assist the Government Assessor in making their decision.
